Class R's Happiness Poem written with Simon Mole

Happiness is sparkly blue,

Happiness is shiny black,

Happiness is the sound of the waves,

Happiness is peace and quiet,

Happiness is chicken nuggets,

Happiness is a Happy Meal,

Happiness is hiding in your heart,

Happiness is inside your brain,

Happiness is wherever you are happy.

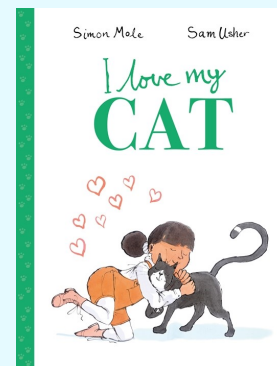

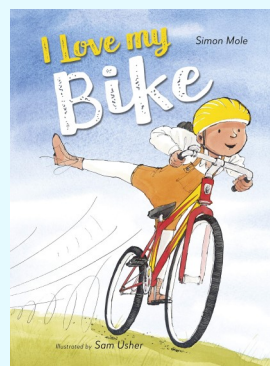

This week we had a very exciting visit from the poet Simon Mole. He gave us a performance in the morning which involved tales of animal football, messy bedrooms and used our own ideas to create a Capel tale. He then visited each class throughout the day to carry out some workshops with us. In year 5, we created our own spells linked to powers we wish we had. We had to think about what we would have to add to our spell and how we would cast them. Simon commented on how impressed he was by all the children at Capel including their great ideas and participation.

Simon Mole has a range of tutorial videos on youtube to help guide and motivate people to write a poem. Lots of fantastic ideas!

Staff Appreciation Week—24th-28th April

Dear Parents, Carers and pupils

I need your help! In the week beginning 24th April, I need all of my staff to know how appreciated they are, but I can't do it alone. Please could I ask a big favour? Can you pick one or two members of staff to send a message to in that week. Just a brief email, dojo or note, letting them know about something that you appreciate them for. All of the staff work so hard and give 100%, and I want them to know that we all value their work. Thank you so much for your help in this—look out for a reminder closer to the date.

Could you be a LOCAL HERO?

Parent Consultations

Thank you to everyone who managed to attend our Parent Consultations this week. It was lovely to see so many of you. Parent Consultations are an ideal opportunity to get an update on your child's learning and progress, and to share any worries or information from home. Please remember though, you do not have to wait for a parent consultation evening to talk to your teacher. You can get in touch via Dojo, email, making an appointment or seeing them on the door at the end of the day.

Brilliant news! Our Happy School Bags collection on Friday 17th March raised £108.40

Thank you so much everyone! Thank you to Joanna Corcoran and Laura Gandon for your help moving the bags!! The next collection is in September, being lead by Joanna.

Thank you so much. From the PTA
